

Indiana's Telephone Privacy law has been a godsend. The volume of these unwanted calls at home has dropped to almost none since on the Indiana no call list. Some days we would get 4-6 calls a day. The FCC should not seek legislation or rule that would diminish the effectiveness of the Indiana law.